

Level of Income Attained by Children with Parents at 25th, 50th and 75th percentile from Opportunity Insights.

Kids who grew up with parents at 25 percentile: $22,491

Kids who grew up with parents at 50th percentile $46,645

Kids who grew up with parents at 75th percentile $82,647

This is the average income in adulthood of people who were born between 1978 and 1983.

Incomes are measured at age 30 for children and between ages 25-35 for parents.

Incomes are reported in 2014 dollars.

This is reported on the website for Opportunity Insight in this excel sheet

Levels of Child and Parent Income in 2014 Dollars by Income Percentile and Child Birth Cohort

Located here

https://opportunityinsights.org/data/?geographic_level=0&topic=121&paper_id=0#resource-listing

Note that in the map data for your census tract they report the average income for people who were born between 1978 and 1983 and so that is the national comparison that is supplied here.