

Psychology & Sociology
Friday Assignment – 8/21/2020

Due – 3:30 pm – 8/21/2020

If you have any issues please email Coach Niessner – Charles.niessner@ucps.k12.nc.us

Using your list of vocabulary words, chose any 15 words from the list, and write a well thought out piece about the first week's material.

Do not just write definitions, put the words you chose into a story or scientific type write up, let me know you know what the words mean and have a grasp of their meaning.

- You only need to use 15 terms
- When you use a term – highlight the word, bold it, underline it, number it (see below for example)
- Your writing should be no more than two pages and no less than three paragraphs
- Your writing should be done in a google doc, that is shared with Coach Niessner by 3:30 pm

If you have any issues or something in life comes up, please email Coach Niessner ASAP.

Example: Do not reuse this 😊 - Be Creative have some fun with it.

On Monday, we started our new Psychology(1) & Sociology class with Coach Niessner. It is going to be very interesting to learn about psychology(1) in this class, due to most of the class being online. We're going to explore how the mind works and learn all about different disorders. We started class by talking about how observation is the basis for all that we will be looking at. There are two main kinds of observation that we discussed so far – Naturalistic (2) & Laboratory Observation (3). Coach Niessner asked us to use our Naturalistic Observation(2) skills to discuss what we saw in class, either in person or via the internet. We also talked about what observations people make, especially when it relates to people watching.
