

French 420 at a Glance

Breakdown of grades:

Completing weekly modules with worksheets etc.: 45%

These short, low-stakes assignments are intended to replicate some of what we might discuss in class. Module assignments will be due Sunday, unless it's a group discussion in which case Friday is suggested to give everyone a chance to participate. 5% will be allocated to the level of engagement in your discussions (i.e. encouraging you to go beyond oui-ou-non answers to questions!)

Two short timed quizzes : 25%

May 3 and May 16th. These will be easy quizzes on the course material – if you've kept up with readings and viewings you'll be fine. Quizzes will be open Sunday and Monday, once you start it will give you 30 minutes to complete. Honor system (don't look up answers!)

Final project. abstract : 5%

May 31. You'll write up an overview of your final project

Final project, draft then final version 25%

You'll write up a first draft (5%) (June 7th) then final version (June 14) of an academic paper OR a non-traditional project. Plenty of prompts and scaffolding will be provided.
